Coleman Rodeo Opened With Gala Parade

The finest parade ever witnessed by the people of the Coleman and the Crows Nest Pass passed in review here on Saturday, July 9th, with five bands to provide martial music. The mile and one-quarter route was lined with people in the festive mood.

It was roughly estimated that over ten thousand saw what has been considered by the oldtimers as the best parade ever held here. The float entries were outstanding, with entries from Lethbridge, Port Macleod, Bellevue, Blairmore, Michel and Coleman. This year there was no Indian section, the reason for it is not known, quite possibly that the Indians have become Unionized. The children's section was smaller than in previous years, but it must be said that this section was really outstanding while we are talking about this section let us give you some of the wonderful displays these kiddies had out. One was dressed as Davy Crockett, two others as oldtime prospectors along with cart and all the necessary equipment an yet another little fellow with a replica of a Red River cart pulled by two very small and young goats, this really captivated the hearts of the parade bystanders. These kiddies put on a show that could not be shadowed by their bigger brothers in the parade. In the larger floats the judges had almost an impossible job as so many of these floats were of the highest caliber and to pick the winners they were tried to the limit. As one judge stated we could honestly give everyone a prize, these are the finest floats that I have ever had the pleasure to see. We must mention one outstanding float, the one awarded first prize was entered by the Modern Electric of Coleman, depicting Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, this was a magnificent float that could hold its own in any parade, and I would venture to state that if entered in the Calgary Stampede parade it would walk off with top honors. The list of winners and the highlights of the float sections we will go into in another story, as it will be too lengthy at this time. With bright sunny weather, the parade was led by the scarlet coated R.C.M.P. followed by the Coleman Pipe Band under the direction of Pipe-Major J. Moore. Parade colors were carried by two mounted men, Herman Linder, Rodeo director and Jim Wilkie, assistant director. Next came the smart color party of the Bellevue Canadian Legion, Ladies Auxiliary followed by the official cars carrying Mayor Shackelford of Lethbridge and Mayor Abousaffy of Coleman. The car following carried Mayor Gray of Blairmore and Mayor Vejprava of Frank, this car was followed by members of the Coleman council and the Board of Trade president W. Holyk. Floats filled out this section. The 2nd section was lead by the crack Drum and Bugle Band of the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry of Calgary under the direction of Dr. Drum-

Major P. Price. This band really had the huge crowd captivated with their smart precision. It must be said from conversations overheard by your reporter that the "Pats" stole the show with their fine performance. It was easy to spot the "old soldiers" by the way their shoulders squared and the admiration that showed from their eyes. The floats that filled out the balance of the section was tops in any parade. 3rd section was led by the "Old Bellables" Michel-Natal Band from Michel, B.C. under the command of C. Tomason. Floats filled out this section. The 4th section was lead by the Famed Cranbrook Girls Drum and Bugle Band under the direction of Edwin Price, World War II veteran. Here was another band that had the crowd ovation, these highschool girls put on a show that even the "Pats" could not shadow. This band has a complete personal turnover every four years, and they have won the Eaton trophy at Calgary stampede last year after three successive wins as the smartest unit in the parade. They tied with Vancouver Fireman Band for first place at the Pacific National Exhibition in 1949. In 1951 they swept the board at the P.N.E. over 30 bands competing, to receive the first award. Again at the Spokane Lilac Festival in 1951 they brought over 1,500 spectators to their feet with their display. Truly this is a very fine band and the people of Cranbrook can be very proud. It certainly was a pleasure for us here in Coleman to have them in our parade. The last section was led by the Color Party of the 31st squadron R.C.M.E. of Blairmore under command of Lt. J. Pratt, and followed by the 9th Technical Regiment Band under the direction of Band-Master, F. Beddington. Although this band is new only being in operation about six months, and composed of men in the Pass towns, they are very fine musicians and in another year will give top bands considerable competition. Fine bands and beautiful floats, displays and the color in general will long be remembered by all who witnessed this parade. Let us not for one minute forget the men who were responsible for all this, first the Parade marshal E. Corson who did a magnificent job and the credit must go to him for this colorful parade. He was untiring in his efforts. Coleman people say "Thanks, we appreciate very much all of your efforts Chief". A swell job well done. Next the boys of the Board of Trade for sponsoring this event and to the Town council for their support, also to the men who volunteered to assist with traffic duties and to all others who assisted in every way, float and display sponsors, merchants and town's people "Thank you once again".

Pensioners to Form Assoc. in Coleman

A meeting of old age pensioners will be held in the Union Hall on Monday July 18th at 7 P.M. for the purpose of forming an association. Persons addressing the meeting will be the Prov-Pres Mr. Frayne of Lethbridge, Mr. J. Waterfield the Prov-treasurer, and Mr. Neddow the President of the Fort Macleod branch. The old age pension act and other matters will be discussed and it is hoped to make this association provincial wide. Mr. John McDade of Hillcrest, sec-treas. of the Blairmore branch stated that a provincial rally and picnic will be held at Crow's Nest Lake on Aug. 14th. It is hoped that a good turnout of pensioners young and old will be on hand in the hall on Monday so as this association may be formed.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kryswy recently received some very interesting scenes and photos from her daughter and family in Egypt including the pyramids Cleopatra's Bath and native characters. There was also one of Mrs. Platt herself in native costume.

Ravens Split in Junior Doubleheader

Coleman - Second place Coleman Ravens split a Southern Alberta Junior Baseball League doubleheader with Lethbridge Yorks here on July 10, by losing the opener 8-5, but winning the second 7-5. Jerry Kjellgaard tossed a three hitter at the Ravens in the afternoon contest registering 13 strikeouts and issuing only one base on balls.

Rypien was the losing pitcher giving up 12 safe hits while setting down on strikeouts and walking three.

Joe Kryczka slammed two of three hits off Kjellgaard including a homer and a bases loaded single to drive in three runs.

In the abbreviated afterpiece which was called at the end of six innings on account of darkness the locals slammed 10 hits and got 4 walks to push across their seven markers. Billy Voss took the defeat striking out only two.

Ferrot was the winner, striking out six men and walking only one. When the local squad was down 5-4 Kryczka hit a double to make it 6-5 then Zembick cinched the game by unloading a pinch-hit double to make the score 7-5. Kemp engineered and doubled and Jenkins hit two singles for the Ravens.

New Highway Opened In Pass Area

The new No. 3 highway through the Frank Slide was opened to the public a couple of weeks ago and much favorable comment on the width and removal of hills and valleys on the road is being made by local motorists. The road is being gravelled at the present time in preparation for a surfacing job this summer.

Meanwhile, workmen have commenced work on the highway at a point just west of the C.N.P. hospital and bulldozers and other equipment are cutting down several bluffs along the roadside in preparation to widening the road.

Progress is also being made on the new highway bridge being built over the Crow's Nest River at Frank as work men are now driving in pilings in preparation for steel and cement work for the bridge.

A temporary road is being built south of the highway bridge in West Blairmore where another new bridge will be built over the Crow's Nest River. Workmen are already preparing both banks of the river for this work.

Mayor Shackelford of Lethbridge Opens Coleman's 10th Annual Rodeo

Saturday, July 9 was another epic day in the history of Coleman, that will long be remembered by the people of the Crows Nest Pass, as the weather was ideal for the finest show ever witnessed here. Top bands, top performers from the ranks of North America's cowboys were on hand to compete in the annual rodeo sponsored by the Coleman Board of Trade.

No finer surroundings could be found anywhere than in the Coleman Rodeo arena to hold such an event. The ceremonies opened at 2 p.m. sharp with the singing of "O Canada", followed by the magnificent display put on by the Drum and Bugle band of the P.P.C.L.I. This performance sent cheer after cheer from the throats of the massed spectators, at the conclusion of their performance Mayor Shackelford, Mayor Abousaffy, Rodeo directors Linder and Wilkie were photographed along with the Band. Mayor Abousaffy introduced Mayor Shackelford of Lethbridge and stated that he was very pleased with the turnout on Coleman's 10th annual rodeo and that there was quite a chance that this would be the finest rodeo we have ever had. Mayor Shackelford then proceeded to officially open the rodeo. He stated that he was very pleased to be here, and that when the invitation was extended to him he lost no time in accepting. That he brought the greetings from the City of Lethbridge and wishing the people of Coleman every success in this event. It has been a great honor extended to him, and the wonderful welcome that he had received from Mayor Abousaffy and family, the Board of Trade and all of the people of Coleman would long remain in his heart.

That the Good Neighbor spirit enjoyed by both towns was something to be cherished, as both Lethbridge and Coleman had been founded on coal and could supply all of our country, it may be known in the future as the Star Valley of Canada and that what benefits Coleman benefits Lethbridge. The kind hospitality of Coleman was well known, and that a great honor had been bestowed on us when Mayor Abousaffy had been elected President of Municipalities of Alberta. Now that most of my speech making is over I'm like the flier who was flying a jet and radioed his commanding officer, "I'm out of gas what will I do now." The Commanding officer replied "you received the D.F.C. in the last war for distinguished flying, that is what you will do now," with that I now officially declare this Rodeo open. But before I go I must congratulate the P.P.C.L.I. band for their wonderful performance and congratulate you from the City of Lethbridge. Mayor Shackelford also commended the Board of Trade for putting on such a fine show.

Jim Wilkie President of the Rodeo Committee and Rodie Hill, secretary were introduced, along with Warren Cooper of Nanton, announcer, who called for the first event to get underway.

Rodeo Comments

Comments overheard from visitors was that the Coleman Rodeo was the finest that they had ever witnessed in a small community. One gentleman from Texas stated that dollar for dollar value that Coleman rodeo was not exceeded anywhere.

Visitors from Fort Macleod were thrilled with Coleman's effort and that they were going to make it a habit of attending every year. One gentleman stated that Fort Macleod could not compete with our Rodeo.

Some of the sightseers wondered why there was such a distance between sections of the parade. Parade marshal Corson stated that due to difficulties beyond his control some sections were a little late in starting causing a longer distance between sections.

Performance of the contestants in the different event of our rodeo was tops. If Coleman can continue to put on these Rodeos our town will become as well known as Calgary and their Stampede.

We wonder what happened to the missing horse at parade time, one of our notables was without his horse and the parade had to stop while he secured one. Well, tell that's the case of the missing horse.

Novel scrapbook at Museum on N.W.T. exhibition of 1895

REGINA.—A novel newspaper scrapbook on the North West Territories exhibition held in Regina in 1895 will soon be among the displays to be seen in the Provincial Museum of Natural History. Dr. Lewis Thomas, provincial Archivist, who received the scrapbook from the estate of the late Brigadier General F. W. E. Burnham, formerly of Arrow Lakes, B.C., has announced.

The exhibition, which Dr. Thomas says has not been duplicated since, except for the World Grain Show, was under the management of Lieutenant Governor of the North West Territories, C. H. Mackintosh. The scrapbook was prepared in the governor's office by his secretary.

Calendonian sports

The scrapbook contains newspaper clippings, advertising posters, an official souvenir program, and copies of program for such events as exhibits, bicycle and horse races, Calendonian sports, polo tournaments, lacrosse, bull train and dog driving, trapshooting, broncho breaking, football, and many other competitions.

The newspaper clippings were gleaned from papers throughout Alberta, Assiniboia, and Saskatchewan, as well as from many American farm journals. The scrapbook also contains a plan of the exhibition grounds and illustrations of the buildings. There was a two-storey main building, two bandstands, a 1,200 seat grandstand, a platform, "the fastest half-mile track in Canada," three water wheels and two windmill pumps among other things. The present Regina exhibition property dates from this period.

The newspapers of the time carried divergent views on the ambitious exhibition. Articles in the scrapbook range from the complimentary to the strongly critical. Calgary papers charged officials with "boodling" and waste.

Governor General Lord Aberdeen was present to open the exhibition which ran from July 29 to August 7. An estimated $19,000 in prizes was given out and gold and silver medals and diplomas for exhibits of cereals, farm products, horses and cattle, etc.

The scrapbook indicates that the basic idea behind the Territorial Exhibition was to publicize the produce of the North-West and to encourage by competition the raising of better types of animals and grains. Over 900 head of stock were on exhibit.

Auto liability limits boosted in Manitoba

Announcement of a boost in policy limits on automobile insurance, with no extra cost to the buyer, has been warmly received by the Manitoba government, according to Hon. Chas. L. Shuttleworth, minister of Public Utilities.

Under new regulations announced recently by board insurance companies in Manitoba, Public liability limits are to be increased from $5,000 to $10,000 for one person killed or injured. Similarly, liability limits for two or more persons killed or injured will jump from $100 to $20,000. The change will go into effect July 1.

"The increase fits in with legislation passed during the last session of the Manitoba government," said Mr. Shuttleworth. "Under an amendment to the Insurance Act, doubled policy limits are mandatory as of July 1, 1956. With insurance companies making the new limits available a year ahead of time, however, car owners will not be obliged to change their policies mid-term."

Mr. Shuttleworth said further that it is a source of satisfaction to the government that limits are being doubled at no extra cost to the car owner.

This reduction in price, the minister commented, is in large part due to Manitoba's highway safety program, which has been instrumental in reducing accidents on provincial roads. He added that Manitoba leads the other Canadian provinces in increasing auto liability limits.

Stains often make floors look worn

Persistent stains often make even the shiniest floor look worn and marked. Quick action following an "accident" might save the day.

Eileen M. Crowther, Home Designing Specialist with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, has the following suggestions to make regarding removing stains on wood floors:

To remove grease stains or spots from wood floors, add one tablespoon of ammonia to two quarts of hot soapy water.

Remove iodine stains with wood alcohol or with a weak solution of household ammonia.

Mercuric stains may be removed with a weak vinegar solution.

Paint stains may be removed with turpentine, any regular cleaning fluid or one of the preparations made for the purpose.

Marks on linoleum made from composition soles or heels may be removed by wiping with a cloth moistened with any kerosene or good cleaning fluid.

A trick to remember when grease is spilt is to rub a piece of ice over the stain. This will harden the grease and prevent it soaking through.

Broken glass

Broken glass or china, tossed away carelessly, may cause dangerous wounds to those who inadvertently handle it. Such pieces should never be tossed into a wastebasket or garbage container without being put into a container, wrapped and tied and then labeled as "Broken glass"; otherwise, workers handling such waste may be severely cut.

A fathometer is used by ships to measure the depth of water.

Experimental farms appointments

Dr. C. H. Goulden, left, has been appointed Director, Experimental Farms Service, Canada department of Agriculture, following the retirement of Dr. E. S. Hopkins. Dr. J. C. Woodward, centre, former Chief of the Chemistry Division, has been appointed Associate Director. Dr. D. G. Hamilton, right, succeeds Dr. Goulden as Chief of the Cereal Division.

Cutworm menace being fought

REGINA.—Army cutworms, first reported from southwestern Saskatchewan at the end of last week, have now infested upward of 20,000 acres of cropland, according to R. E. McKenzie, director of the agriculture department Plant Industry branch.

"The infestation is confined to the Val Marie, Climax, Eastend, Shaunavon area and reports are still being sent to the agricultural representative for the district," said Mr. McKenzie. "The dieldrin poison shipped to the area by the department appears to be giving good results on the earlier infested fields, either producing immediate kills or slowing down damage."

To date over 4,000 acres have been sprayed and some of the first fields sprayed are showing signs of recovery. The infestation corresponds to that area which was hailed out last year. On these fields little fall cultivation was done and green growth in the fall provided food for the young worms.

"We expect feeding to cease shortly," said the director, as the worms become full grown and go into cocoons. Eventual losses will depend on moisture, for if the present state is continued, crop recovery may be good. On some badly damaged fields reseedling has already begun."

$10 Million cable project spans ocean

NEWINGTON, N.H.—Workmen today are in the first phase of a $10,000,000 project to link North America and Britain with the world's first trans-ocean telephone cable, states an Associated Press story.

When the project is completed, expected in the summer of 1956, 2,000 miles of cable will stretch from Newfoundland to Scotland under the Atlantic ocean, which in places is 2½ miles deep.

The cable will contain 36 conversation circuits, 26 from Anglo-American calls and the rest for calls between Canada and England. That almost triples the present radio-telephone capacity.

The cable is expected to do away with the poor connections, electrical disturbances and the voice fading experienced in the present radio-telephone circuits.

The British cable-laying ship Monarch, with a crew of 150, is laying its first segment of the under-water link at the Simplex Wire and Cable Co. plant here. The Monarch leaves for Clarenville, Nfld., where the actual cable-laying work is due to get under way June 22.

Bed without supper

A common punishment that was often inflicted before people realized the importance of food to a child's growth, was to send Junior to bed without his supper as a penalty for some misdeed. Today, the average mother realizes that a child's health rather than his conscience may be affected by depriving him of necessary proteins, minerals and vitamins. Cutting out some favorite special dessert or candy may act as corrective but in this case, the lost food values should be compensated for in the rest of his meal.

FINE FURS

The sable, prize fur-bearing member of the weasel family, is the Russian counterpart of the Canadian marten.

Banks constructed to thwart crime

That new bank on the corner, sparkling with glass and stainless steel, is no pushover, says Vincent Egan in The Financial Post.

With its glass doors and floor-to-ceiling windows on the outside, its open counters and absence of partitions on the inside, it undoubtedly helps to beautify the community. But don't be deceived by its air of openness. Chances are it's much more bandit-proof than the old fortress-like branch down the street.

It's true that the old banks look more secure, with their heavy bars, ornate grill-work and massive stonework. But for the burglar and the hold-up man, they provided near-perfect opportunities to work unnoticed. For bank staffs, they encouraged a Maginot Line mentality.

Today's modernistic bank is no sitting duck. Besides having the latest in built-in safety devices, its general architecture is designed partly to make the criminals' job as tough as possible.

Canadians are still the world's greatest telephone conversationalists. During 1953—latest figures available—Canadians averaged 411 conversations each.

Home Workshop

This cart beats a wheelbarrow when doing the chores around the homestead. For example, it may be tipped up to rest the front on the ground so grass clippings may be raked into it. The deep hopper holds a lot of litter meaning fewer trips to the compost heap. Having two wheels and a broad base it is easiest to handle than a barrow. Eight-inch disk wheels would be better than the wooden ones shown in the sketch. When the garden is cleaned up for the winter just remove the wing nuts and hang the cart in an out-of-the-way corner of the garage. The pattern is 25¢ of it will be included in the Gardeners' Helpers Packet for five standard size patterns for $1.50 postpaid.

Whether one is planning a new house or doing over the outside of a used house, shutters afford an interesting feature if the style is well chosen. They may be used for decoration only or may be hinged to open and close easily. The twelve designs differ both in the decorative cut-outs and construction. From this wide assortment of styles something appropriate can be found for the house in town, country or at the shore. Actual-size cutting guides are given for both open-work and overlay designs. Fantin - Hruby

BELLEVUE — A lovely wedding of local interest was solemnized in St. Cyril's Catholic Church, Bellevue on Saturday, July 2, at 11:00 a.m., when Doreen Elizabeth, second youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fantin of Bellevue was united in marriage to Steve Gordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hruby Sr. of Bellevue.

Father Carroll of Bellevue performed the nuptial ceremony. Eric Price, accompanied by Miss Marilyn Elick of Hillcrest on the organ, sang during the ceremony. The bride entered the church, which was decorated with calla lilies, lilacs and spring flowers, on the arm of her father and was lovely in a floor length strapless gown of lace over satin with matching bolero and lily point sleeves. Her full bouffant skirt had insets of lace and net. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a sweetheart tiara. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. TeeDee Comin of Bellevue, was matron of honor in a white and green afternoon dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow carnations. Miss TeeDee Fantin's sister of the bride, wore a strapless gown of net over taffeta with a matching stole and a white picture hat with white accessories and Miss Lulu Monte, cousin of the bride, in a green strapless net gown over satin with a matching stole and a white picture hat with white accessories were bridesmaids. Donna Hruby, niece of the groom, was flower girl and wore a blue nylon dress with matching headress. She carried a colonial bouquet. Dale Sterba was ring bearer. The bridal attendants carried colonial bouquets trimmed with matching ribbons.

Best man was Mr. John Stevulak of Coleman. Edward Gregor and Gillis Hruby, brother of the groom, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue two piece suit with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations. The groom's mother chose a navy blue afternoon dress with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

At 5:00 p.m. a reception for approximately 100 guests was held at the home of the bride, which was decorated with spring flowers. The guests were received by the bridal couple. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a bridal couple. Toasts to the bride and groom were proposed by Father Carroll and John Stevulak and responded to by the groom. A wedding dance was held after the reception with music being supplied by Gillis Hruby.

The young couple left for their honeymoon to Red Deer, Banff and Calgary and on their return will reside in Bellevue. For her going away outfit the bride chose a grey and navy suit with pink accessories with a corsage of white carnations and pink roses.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Tom Hatusik and Lawrence of Aldersyde, Mr. and Mrs. Pipnicka of Calgary and Mrs. Charlie Sherret of Medicine Hat.

Popular Young Couple Leave To Reside At Edmonton

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hewitt and two children left last week to take up residence at Edmonton, having lived here for the past twelve years and making many close friends during that time.

Mrs. Hewitt was a Past Noble Grand of Victoria Rebekah Lodge and prior to her departure was honored by members with a gift. Mrs. W. Lonsbury in making the presentation spoke of what a faithful member and willing worker Mrs. Hewitt had been and also voiced the regret of the lodge at the loss of this member and wished her every success in her new surroundings.

They where also guests of honor at the house of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lonsbury where a delicious turkey supper was enjoyed by friends present. Mr. Lonsbury presented the honored guests with a gift from friends assembled.

Mr. Hewitt was a former employee of the Coleman Colleries and an active member of the Coleman curling club. They were also members of the local score dance club. Their many friends wish them success and happiness in their new venture.

Buddy Heaton "hit" Of Rodeo

Buddy Heaton outstanding clown on the Rodeo circuit kept the crowd in continual laughter with his antics at Coleman's rodeo. His most outstanding act was where he produced 20 kiddies and two full grown goats from one small car. It still is a mystery where he packed this crowd into such a small space. His other acts were just as mirth raising. Very few of the crowd realized the fine job he was doing during the Brama Bull riding, it was his efforts that quite possibly saved some rider from being badly mauled or gored by one of these fierce bulls. He himself had a very narrow escape in the pens when charged by one of these bulls. Good luck Buddy we hope to see you again along with your mirth raising antics.

All in all the comments of out-of-town visitors to the Rodeo show that they will be back again next year and bring some friends with them. Even our own people stated that this was the finest show yet. Good work Board of Trade.

* Liverpool (N.S.) Advance: "Any progressive industry today is at the mercy of the assessors who tax a man on what he saves, not what he earns."

* Kelowna (B.C.) Courier: "Menace of the guaranteed annual wage is that it would tend to freeze the size of business families. Employers coupled with a legal requirement to give a person employment for a year would hesitate long before taking on such a commitment. In fact many young people enter into marriage with less consideration than a prudent employer would give to hiring a stenographer or millhand."

* Marpole-Richmond (B.C.) Review: "It is the usual custom to judge by comparison and, having nothing else, we native Canadians do not realize the priceless advantages which are ours by virtue of being Canadians. Most of us would be greatly enlightened if we discussed those advantages with some of our new Canadians who have lived under, or beneath the shadow of oppressors—whether Nazi, Communist or Fascist. It might even get a few more electors out next polling day."

* Cranbrook (B.C.) Courier: "Cutting a government's revenue is the only effective way of cutting its expenditures. Governments which promise to reduce taxes 'never seem to get around to reducing expenditures. They have to be forced into it by sheer lack of money."

* Kentville (N.S.) Advertiser: "In spite of the progress made already there must be great additional scope for grassland farming. Surely there are more than 700 livestock farmers in the province. And until we find the biggest possible portion of our livestock feed from grass, this province is letting an opportunity go begging."

* Yorkton (Sask.) Enterprise: "Judging by latest developments in the ranks of 'the brass' of the Liberal party in Saskatchewan one would be inclined to believe they are trying harder to retain Socialism in this province than bring about the return of a government pledged to support free enterprise."

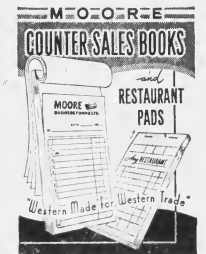

Three Rivers (Que.) Valley Chronicle: "State enterprises, however much they may try to follow the dictates of sound business practice, seldom find it possible to do so."

CONCENTRATED STUDY—Margaret Gregory, 32, travelled with her theatrical family as a child and never did get to school. She graduates next week from Syracuse University.

Completely lined in wild junk, the coat at left is woven of wool from the Andean vicuña, has a generous collar that doubles as a hood on cold, blustery days. As costumed for the role of the countess in Giordano's opera, "Andrea Chénier," something more bubbly would seem to be in order. However, no matter what the role, Herta sings the praises of milk as a quick-energy drink. Her favorite formula, one cup milk, one teaspoon coffee extract, two drops vanilla, sugar to taste. Mix well.

AEROBATIC REPRESENTATIVE—F/L W. N. Peterson, of Milo, Alta., who represented Canada at the International Air Show near The Hague last week, climbs into his Saire jet. He did a seven-minute display of aerobatics before a crowd of 200,000. He is stationed in Germany.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE LUCKIEST MAN

By VALERIE CULLEN

THESE good luck coins are a lot of foolishness," Dan muttered to the waitress by his side. "Generally a customer passes on at least one a day to me. I should be the luckiest man alive according to that, but I'm not."

It was closing time, and Dan, a lean, not unattractive man in his early thirties, was estimating the day's profits at the restaurant's cash register. In the soft darkness outside twinkling neon lights had one by one flashed on. The one customer left, a nondescript young man, sat nervously smoking a cigarette, flicking the ashes too frequently, and watching the outside street intently.

Irritated by Della's indulgent smile, Dan continued, "Look at these old Indian head pennies. And here are some French and English coins—useful souvenirs and silly superstition."

"That's a lot of change you got there, mister." Startled, Dan glanced up to see that the stranger had moved noiselessly from the table and was now standing menacingly close.

"Oh, not so much," Dan replied slowly. His and the stranger's eyes were locked in a duel—Dan's eyes questioning and alert, the stranger's eyes ruthless and bright. Still trying to hold his gaze, Dan let his hand drop slowly below the counter, his fingers touching a drawer where he kept a revolver. "That's enough, the man knew suddenly shouted. He crashed the side of a rigid palm down on Dan's forearm; a gun quickly appeared in the other hand. Dan winced in pain.

"How dare you strike and rob a hard-working man!" Della snapped, all of her feminine protective instincts aroused and anger overcoming caution. Long ago disappointed by Dan's failure to ask her for a date when she first came to work in his restaurant, she had accepted her failure and pushed her affection for him into the background. Although she knew she was no ravishing beauty, she was young and pretty in a wholesome way. Now every bit of repressed love for him came furiously to the surface.

Disregarding the gun, she leaped over and slapped the stranger as hard as she could. Dan reached for the gun at the same time. With a shove the stranger sent Della crashing back against the wall and then jammed the gun against Dan, who was white with anger, not for himself but for Della's treatment.

"Think you're smart, don't you?" the man sneered. "Is the cute blonde your wife?"

"No, and she's none of your business." "Pretty cute waitress, I'd like to pay her more attention but I'm in a hurry this time. So just hand me all the money in the cash register—and fast, mister. Remember, no funny business this time either."

Jamming the money into his large coat pockets, the man walked backwards to the door, quickly leaped into a car at the curb and disappeared around the corner.

"Did he hurt you, Della?" Dan demanded anxiously.

"Just knocked the breath out of me. Are you all right?" Looking at each other with concern, they both were suddenly swept with a feeling of trust and comradeship and something else that had not existed before. "We'd better call the police right away," Della said, wrenching herself back to the present with an effort.

"I'm afraid we won't stand a chance of catching him. I didn't get the car license because it was dark." Dan picked up the phone and gave detailed descriptions to the police.

"Well, h-h-how did you find him?"

"Thank you," she replied with lowered eyes. She knew they both felt this night was different from the other nights he had casually dropped her off at her home. On the drive, they talked hesitatingly and then more freely, and she came to the amazing discovery he was very shy underneath his calm poised exterior.

She was almost glad the hold-up had occurred because it had brought them together.

The next morning when she reported to work, they smiled at each other with the same friendly and understanding look and almost missed seeing Pat, the neighborhood cop, who greeted them cheerfully from the door.

"Say, Dan, can you come down to the station to identify a man we picked up who answered your description?"

"Well, h-h-how did you find him?"

"We watched restaurants and shops in this area. Then we got a report a man had bought a new suit of clothes and paid for it with some of those foreign and Indian head pennies you mentioned. I guess he didn't even notice he had them."

"Well, I'll be," Dan drawled in amazement. He looked at Della for a long moment and then laughed. "I think those coins really did make me a lucky man!" Pat failed to understand the unspoken little joke that passed between the two.

Minimum teaching 1955-56 is 198

REGINA.—The number of teaching days for the academic year 1955-1956 for Saskatchewan's public, separate, and high schools has been set at 198.

A school will qualify for the full operational grant only if it is in operation for the minimum number of days or more. The minister of Education sets the number of teaching days each year under the authority of the School Act.

The minimum number of teaching days for year 1954-1955 was also 198.

Cancer is one of the serious diseases that can often be controlled and frequently cured if it is diagnosed and treated in time. Anyone who suspects that he has any symptoms of this disease should consult his doctor as early as possible. Early treatment may effect a cure or, if there are no signs of the disease, it will help the worried person to regain peace of mind.

THE TILLERS

Funny and Otherwise

"I don't know whether I ought to recognize him or not. Our acquaintance at the seaside was very slight."

"You promised to marry him, didn't you?"

"Yes, but that was all."

The doctor was examining the strapping young recruit, when he asked the routine question, "How old are you?"

"Thirty-two," answered the boy, his pink cheeks glowing.

"Are you sure?"

"Of course I'm sure. I was told me when I was four and I been adding a year at plowing time ever since."

The doctor thought a moment. "Spring plowing or fall plowing?"

The boy looked startled, then broke into a broad grin. "You know, I thought I was gittin' old too darn fast!"

The little man was pushing his cart through the crowded market. "Coming through," he called merrily. No one moved. "Gangway," he shouted. A few men moved.

Ruefully he surveyed the situation, and then smiled as a bright idea struck him.

"Watch your nyons," he warned. The women scattered like dust in the wind.

Living dangerously has been defined as having the sofa upholstered while the children are under 12.

The old man, one of the oldest citizens of the town, stepped into the barber chair to celebrate his birthday with a haircut. The barber was unaware of the occasion until the end of the clipping session when the customer said, "Today is my birthday."

"Congratulations," answered the barber. "I hope I can give you a haircut on your hundredth birthday."

His aged patron spared the barber with a steady gaze.

"Maybe you can," said the ancient one, "you look pretty healthy."

The boss returned from lunch in a good humor, and called in the whole staff to listen to a couple of jokes he had picked up. Everybody but one laughed uproariously.

"What's the matter?"

"Gumbled the boss. 'Haven't you a sense of humor?'"

"I don't have to laugh," said the girl. "I'm leaving on Friday, anyhow."

Get Winter Fair forms in early

REGINA. — C. E. Beveridge, Saskatchewan Livestock Commissioner and secretary of the Saskatchewan Livestock Board, has made public regulations regarding the seeding of livestock to the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto next November.

The regulations were formulated as a result of a meeting of a committee consisting of the presidents of the different livestock associations in the province, the director of the Animal Industry branch of the department of Agriculture and the Livestock Commissioner.

Each association or breed club has appointed a selection committee and the commissioner urges those who feel they have stock suitable for the fair to get their nomination forms returned early so the selection committee will have a chance to view the animals.

Mothers' allowance scheme broadened, amount boosted

REGINA.—Mothers' allowances in Saskatchewan have been increased by $5 per month and in conjunction with the increase, certain amendments to the Mothers' Allowance regulations have also been made, Social Welfare minister J. H. Sturdy has announced.

Mr. Sturdy said that a regulation change regarding dependent children over 16 years now enables the mother to receive the allowance for the child during the months of July and August and until the end of the school term in which he is 18 as long as he continues at school. This is to enable children to obtain health and dental services while they are not in classes during the summer holiday. Mr. Sturdy urges parents to encourage their children to take advantage of educational opportunities for more adequate preparation for life.

Mr. Sturdy also stated that in cases of desertion, a court order for maintenance against the husband, if unpaid after all possible action has been taken to enforce it, may be declared uncollectible by the program director in charge of Mothers' Allowance. Formerly, a maintenance order, whether paid or not, was considered income to the mother with the result that she may not have been eligible for the maximum allowance.

Mothers with dependent children whose husbands are confined to a sanatorium or a nursing home in the province will now receive an allowance on their behalf. Mr. Sturdy suggested that a mother could use her husband's portion of the allowance for the purchase of comforts for him.

In cases of incapacitation of the husband the cost of the initial medical examination will now be paid by the province. This will result in more adequate medical information from which the rehabilitation potential of the husband may be determined. If the husband is certified for rehabilitation, the mother and children will receive Mothers' Allowance to assist during the exploration and rehabilitation period.

The $5 increase and new regulations became effective April 1, 1955. The first cheque was mailed out on April 1st.

Salad week

Salads are good all the year around but for one week in the year there is a special reminder that a dish of raw vegetables, made up attractively and with plenty of variety, will add much to lunch or dinner as a main dish.

In addition to lettuce, celery, boiled potatoes and the rest of the traditional salad material, try using other kinds—raw asparagus tips, diced raw turnip, finely shredded cabbage, green peppers and any other combination that will add flavor and color.

MOVING UP

Current forecasts point to Canada, by 1965, being the world's fourth greatest iron ore producer.

Only the adult males are truly lightning bugs; females are lightless and wingless. Therefore, like the larvae, they are called glow-worms.
